

"The Tallest monument in London is to commemorate the fire of 1666 when one-half of London was laid low. Moscow, Paris, Hamburg, New York, Boston, Baltimore and Honolulu have all witnessed great conflagrations. For complete, devastating holocausts, Chicago and Prisco are the best examples."

The best boost you can give yourself, and indirectly the place you live in, is to make up your mind to save money—and then, by a little self-denial, do it.

You build character along with the bank account—and you gain funds for taking advantage of certain business conditions later.

And you become a better citizen.

'BIG TIM'S' GOOD DEEDS LIVE AFTER HIM
[By Latest Mail]
NEW YORK. — Although "Big Tim" Sullivan is dead, those who in the past looked to him for their Christmas dinner will not go hungry this year. His heirs announced today that poor families in the Bowery district would continue to receive the usual Christmas dinner baskets, and that the inmates of the lodging-houses along the Bowery would also be remembered as formerly.

It is also stated that the Timothy D. Sullivan Association has been reorganized and incorporated to carry on the benevolent work.

SENATOR CHARLES RICE, of Kauai is in the city. He came here to be initiated into the order of Chiefs of Hawaii.

MRS. W. B. LARDNER and Miss Effa Lardner returned from Honolulu Thursday; Mrs. Mary Stevens and Miss Georgia Lardner remaining in San Francisco.—Auburn, Cal., Herald.

WALTER DUSENBERG, who arrived in Washington, D. C., January 15, after several months in Lower California, will leave for Berlin, Germany, after settling some business in the eastern city in connection with the Algaroba Feed Company.

PROF. FRANK A. HOSMER, once president of Oahu College, and now a college professor in Massachusetts, has been recently active in Bay State politics. He was nominated on the Republican ticket for the governor's council, a high position, but lost in the election.

DECLINE OF LEPROSY

The census of 1881 reported 131,618 lepers in India; that of 1901 97,340, and that gratifying decrease has continued steadily. There were segregated in mission asylums 1,398 lepers in 1887, and 6,353 in 1910. The mission to Lepers in India and the East, founded in 1874, supported eleven asylums, containing 500 lepers, in India in 1894. In 1911 the asylums numbered forty-two and the lepers 3,788, while the twenty-one homes for the untainted children of leprous parents contained about 500 boys and girls.

The fate of the leper in India is pitiable. He is turned out of caste, and to the loss of all property are added great indignities in the case of the rich sufferer. In early days the lepers were buried alive in the superstitious belief that it insured against the spreading of the disease to other members of the family.

The three barbarous acts forbidden at once when, in 1846, the Punjab was taken over by the British, were the burning of widows, the killing of newborn daughters and the burying alive of lepers. While no lepers are now being buried alive, their lot is still one of unmitigated misery, especially since their creed teaches them that their affliction is a curse from the gods.

The enforcement of the lepers' act and the compulsory segregation of pauper lepers in Christian asylums is a blessing to the lepers themselves, who find there not only shelter but Christian sympathy and love, and taste spiritual joy and eternal hope.
